

Sid Mohn President, Heartland Alliance for Human Needs and Human Rights

Dr. Mohn joined Heartland Alliance in 1980, and also serves as President of its three partners: Heartland Housing, Inc., Heartland Health Outreach, Inc. and Heartland Human Care Services, Inc. He is responsible for developing and implementing the strategic plan that allows the organization to meet its mission. Through his passion and vision, Dr. Mohn has helped Heartland Alliance and its partners become the premier service-based human rights organization in the United States.

Prior to his tenure at Heartland Alliance, he held positions with the Chicago Urban League, the Kane/DeKalb Counties Employment and Training Consortium, International Documentation, and La Casa Center. Dr. Mohn is a graduate of Temple University, received his Master of Divinity degree from the School of Theology at Claremont, California, and his doctorate from McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago. He is a United Church of Christ clergyperson and a member of the Order of Ecumenical Franciscans.

Dr. Mohn is past Chair of the Board of Directors of the National Immigration Forum and is a member of the Board of Directors of International Social Services U.S. Committee for Refugees, Chicago Commission on Human Relations, and Global Chicago.
